MONDAY EVENING, NOVEMBER 4.

BUBSCRIPTIONS TO THE EVENING WORLD

Entered at the Post-Office at New York as second class matter.

BE BRANCH OFFICES WORLD UPTOWN OFFICE-1267 BROADWAY, he tween Slet and 32d sts., New York. BROOKLYN-350 FULTON ST. HARLEM-News Department, 150 East 1257H St.; Advertise-ments at 237 East 115TH St. PHILADELPHIA, PA. IFDORE BUILDING, 112 SOUTH GIR ST. WASHINGTON-610 14TH ST.

LONDON OFFICE-32 COCKSPUR ST., TRAFALGAR

CCCXLYCCCCLXYIII Worlds Per Day.

INIMPEACHABLE TESTIMONY!

AFTER a thorough examination of the Circulation Books, Press and Mail Room Reports and Newsdealers' Accounts of the "NEW YORK WORLD," also the Receipted Bills from vario Paper Companies which supply the 'NEW YORK WORLD," as well as the Indorsed Checks given in payment there-for, we are convinced, and certify, that there were Printed and Actually Circulated during the Month of March, 1869, a total of Ten Million Seven Hundred and Nine Thousand Five Hundred and Twenty (10,709,520) Complete Copies of "THE WORLD."

OD Baldion

President of the American Loan and Trust Company.

Thos. L Jams President of the Lincoln National Bank

March, 1889, - 10,709,520 Average Number of WORLDS Printed Daily during the Month of March last; 345,468.

Avwage Number of WORLDS Printed Daily during the last Six Months: 342,206.

THE WORLD has now seventy thousand dol lars, collected by its individual efforts, for the Guarantee Fund of the World's Fair. It has done this by a vigorous personal can-

In a word, though the numerous friends of the paper bave naturally helped to make its list larger than that of any other newspaper. there was not much more spontaneous alacrity in the contributions here than has been displayed elsewhere. But the course of approaching the citizens and soliciting conthe subscription list attests.

There must be no flagging. This part of the great task may be it ksome, but it is absolutely necessary, and the sooner it is through with and force can be applied to the better.

Until the $5,000,000 is in hand there is nothing else to be said except to basten with it. It must be had. Why not quickly?

VIRGINIA AND MAHONE

.To-morrow night it will be clearer whether Virginia belongs to Mahone or Mahone merely belongs to Virginia. The reason the election there is watched with such interest is because of the peril involved in it to the integrity of the corner-stone of American government, the purity of the ballot-box.

What Gen. MAHONE wants is votes for himself. Who casts them or how is a minor consideration. He is more eager to be the Governor of Virginia than to be the choice of Virginians for Governor. These are wide distinctions and they mean a great deal. The reports from the "Old Dominion" are not gladsome now. Will they be less so to-

If they tell of the election of MAHONE they undoubtedly will. Still more, if they tell of illegal votes, monkeying with the returns or bulldozing" at the polls.

JAY GOULD AS A SITTER.

Jay Gould's portrait has been done a thousand times by the press, but he has never in cold blood sat before a painter and bid him | manner. paint his features. Whether as Jay gets older he gets more kindly to the people who are to lose him, or ice s that he must get at posterity some way or other, he has given BENJAMIN CONSTANT an order to paint his portrait.

CONSTANT'S selection of subjects is generally from the Orient. But this young Lochinvar from out of the West, with his check book in his hand, is inspirational, MAYOR GLEASON.

If to-morrow's election is adverse to the atrenuous Mayor of Long Island City a picliceye. Outside of his own municipality Mayor GLEASON has figured chiefly in paraof the Long Island City voters entertain a or jardinlere. different view of their Mayor and will strive die hard.

Earnest steadfastness of purpose is always ndable and sometime. touching. A keep her dog in ribbons as she does to keep herself in an istely had to try seven times before he gloves. billed himself. But he succeeded. This is a bright example for all who may feel tempted

One of our ministers said yesterday that there are no infants in the place of future punishment. Cheering news for those wicked old bachelors who are always complaining about the dear little cherubs'

Mr. P. T. BARNUM is a humorist as well as an advertiser. He says all the seats for his opening night in Lordon are sold to "the nobility, aristocracy, gentry, art, science and the professions.

A random steer in Kansas City charged madly into a tramp, and he was rendered unconscious, but was uninjured. Certainly be was not injured. Unconsciousness improves Vote against any Senate or Assembly candidate who has not pledged himself against the use of Central Pack for the World's Fair.

Vote early but not often to-morrow.

SPOTLETS.

Aged Mr. Fovel's young wife, out in Illinois, is doubly dear to bim. He not only fell in love with her, but paid her $109,000 to marry him.

Clothing Salesman - Well, how do you like this pat

Kansas City's howling terrors differ from its real estate become in that they fall off in value away from home. One of them, brought into Jefferson Warket Court yesterday, was appraised at only $10 by the

The real Coroner's jury is often a body fearfully and wonderfully made up. Vide the verifiet in Greenwich that poor Massie Hourisan "came to her caived before death." Gone is the blazer's beauteous stripe

From mountains and from pier: The chappie dons his darker clothes Left over from last year. And ane who were a bathing suit Alarmingly petite. Now wants a scalskin ulster That reaches to her feet.

Another fond tradition of the Republic is gone Becent researches show that Abraham Lincoln bad ancestors who were not only rich but office-holders. Two little boys recently got hold of an engine an started it. Strange to say, it was the engine which was broken up. Engineers cannot be too careful in the way in which they leave their engines about. A Chester (Pa.) husband will stay in nights for ome time to come. His wife gave the hint which led to his arrest for burglary. The truly good do not always wait long for their reward. A Kansas City reporter has fallen heir to London's Lord Mayor Whitehead is also a level head. He would not banquet the Shah until he was promised a baronetcy.

With two wives living within forty miles of each her, end with indictments for tigamy standing gainst him in Ulster and Columbia counties, a gay Valutie man goes free for want of jurisdiction in the courts. It used to be that lack of evidence was the only serious block in such a case.

POLITICAL ECHOES.

"Handsome Billy" Sheehan, of Buffalo, the Democratic leader in the Assembly, gains a bride, but is liable to lose his seat in the Legislature. Billy is going to move out of the poor district he has represented so long to move in aristocratic circles, which ccounts for his less of prestige.

A number of members of the German Democratic organization of the Fifteenth Assembly District have oited the Tammany Pall nominations. This defect tion is more than offset by the United German De mocracy of the Twenty-second District, which has repudiated the fusion ticket.

Tammany Hall may thank Coroner Messemer for many a vote this election. He has been working like a beaver for the ticket night and day.

The Central I abor Federation-the Socialistic exutive body-has declared against Benjamin Van Leeuwen, the Tammany candidate for Assembly i the Twelfth District.

Gen. John N. Knapp, the Chairman of the Repubtributions was adopted, with what success lican State Executive Committee, has secured a "pair" at his bome in Auburn and will watch tomorrow's battle in this city with a great deal of in terent.

Mr. William Edwards, of the Hoffman House, is awfully analous to invest a number of thousands of dollars which he has been commissioned to bet on other preparations for the great event, the the success of the Tammany ticket. He is meeting with no takers, although be is ready to bet on major ities for the ticket of from 15,000 to 20,000.

Of all the Tammany candidates for Senator Geo. F. Boesch, of the beyonth District, is conceded to have the best chance of election, although Chamberlain Croker predicts the success of all with the possible exception of leaman Turner, who is fighting "Money-lags" Stewart in the Eighth.

"Silver Dollar" Smith is offering odds that he will Realizing that the G. O. P. will need all the vote can possibly get this election, Secretary Windows has directed that the Custom-House be closed toso that all the employees may exercise their right of franchise. Sure-thing betters would like to wager their coin that Ames J. Cummings will be elected to Congress

Dr. McGlynn has declared for ballot reform, Tom

ATHLETES IN REPOSE.

"Billy" Brooks, who has been chosen to refere the Yele-Princeton football game on Thinksciving bay, is a Harvard man of the class of '87. While in niege he was a member of the University crew and captain of the football learn during his Senior year.
He was one of the most effective athletes Harvard ver had. He weighs 170 rounds and is very power

End-maker Donnelly, of Princeton, while new to the orange-and-black, is an experienced football thave no need of a recipe, for I have been married nearly four years, and my husband has seasons. He is an accretise player and hurls his yet to stend his first evening away from home 155 jounds about the field in the most reckless voluntarily. I will give you my bleas of what

W. Storm, of the Manhattan Athletic Club, does all be can to en ourse aniateur attiletes in general and members of the Manhattan in particular. His influence is felt throughout the Club.

Harry Bradley, the bieyelist, is a member of the Brooklyn Picycle Club, and is regarded as one of its rack riders. He is particularly good at the long dis-

LA MODE.

A fan, a walking stick, a hat and a bonnet frame an easy chair, a hair comb, a conset, 'an occelet and a dance bear the name of Edison. Such is fame.

The chrysanthemum is the flower of the hour. suresque energy may disappear from the pub. single and double petal are displayed in windows. nickes and vestibules, and lend color and beauty to dining, writing, dressing and readmy tables. To counteract the somewhat unpleasant odor, an open graphs telling of some doughty deed. Some visi of some strong scent is floated on the vase, urn fills and satin, ribbons and ruching, plumes and their best to down him. But the Mayor will flowers, ruffles and frills of lace, bits of shell and veils of jet and crystal are used to drage the globes of tinted glass and porcelain that shade table and pedes-

It is an admitted fact that fashion pays as much to

to discouragement after the failure of their WINNERS OF MEN.

Wives Who Enjoy Their Husbands' Society of Evenings.

Beguilements by Which the Lords of Creation Are Kept at Home.

Eager Competition for "The Evening World" Golden Prize.

Thousands of Ladles, Each of Whom Thinks Her Plan Best.

Canditions of the Contest. A Gold Double Engle, "Eventag World" prize for the test recipe for keeping a husband at home erenings.

I ditter." giving their nome and address, not for publication where not derived. The recipe must not be more than 200 words long, and must be written on one side of the paper only.

His Home Better Than Saloons.

I came to New York in 1857, during the panic. I have never given or taken a drink of intoxicating Equor during all these years; it fact, I have not been inside a saloon either in New York or Brooklyn. Therefore, my wedded life has been just what I recommend to all others. My home is more dear and enered to me to spend my evenings in than any other place this side of Kingdom Come.

J. G.

A Happy Wife's Recipe.

First, there must be perfect faith and confidence between man and wife. Then, when John omes home at night have a good dinner for the inner man that will set him at peace with himself and the world, If home is neat and cosy and wife looking her prettiest he will think home preferable to any meticat he will think home pertending inteller resort.

This is written by one who has been married hear eighteen years, and whom God has seen best to visit with an affliction that is incurable; whose husband belongs to two clubs, but almost always prefers home to either, and seldom goes out except on business. He always takes his wife with him if he can.

There is something about a happy home that no pen has the power to describe.

A Happy Wife.

By "Precept and Example."

Keep your husband home by precept and example. First, personal adornment is an attraction; second, good, regularly appointed meals; third, sympathy with your husband's ideas plans, &c.; fourth, a cheerful temperment; and last, but not least, units of mind and a Chris-tian spirit. "Forbearing one another and for-giving one another." Mrs. Wilson Ryss., Perth Amboy, N. J.

Get Him Out in the Country.

Persuade him to invest in one of those "Ow your own home " houses in the country, and with no liquor stores or billiard rooms or fash ionable promenades and no other house within units a distance. I am sure he will find more pleasure and enjoyment at home than in going out at night.

L. L. C.

Cannot Change Bls Nature.

There is no thought or action of a woman which will keep a man at home evenings, unles he is built that way. May DENELLE.

Keep Illm Dead Broke.

To the Editor An excellent way of keeping a husband ome in the evening is to compel him to give to his wife every cent he carne. Men do not care go out unless they have money in their ocket. If the husband occasionally takes a glass of near or smokes a cigar, keep bottled beer in the If the husband occasions, been bottled beer in the house or purchase cigars by the box. Allow the busband to select the cigars. ELLA PHART.

Thinks the End Justifies the Menny. My recipe is: Have other fellows call and the

My recipe is: limsband will stay every time, PLAIN MABY JANE.

The Secret in One Word.

A widow who knew how to keep her hubby home. The secret is love; without that I pity wife and hubby. Days for the Bables, Evenings for John.

My recipe for keeping a husband at hom venings is: First, for the wife to be sure her husband loves her before she marries him. Second, rend him off with a kiss and urge him to come home carly if possible. Third, watch for him at the window; when you see him run and let him in; have a bright and happy smile, and loving greeting, his slippers ready and also and lowing greening, his support in the slipi er.

Never make complaints about children or servants or other domestic troubles; talk of subjects you know interest him and take as much interest in your appearance as you did before you were married. Daytime for the children and evening wholly devoted to the hu-band and not to society.

A Happy Wife.

Hide That Pesky "Tidy." To the Editor

A pleasant greeting and appetizing dinner, est house, wife and children,

Avoid fault-finding and don't resort to tears non the least provocation.

Don't object to smoking, card-playing, &c., t home. The men congregated in eight-stores how how munitiestive some homes must be.

Don't terment him with that tidy on his Don't terminal favorite chair.

Don't south him, but let him see that his society is preferable to others' company.

E. M.

Much Depends on the Man.

climitarily. I will give you my bleas of what I should do if he wanted to spend his evenings abroad.

If he should say some evening after dinner, "Well, I guess I will take a run out for a little while. I would say, "Well, dear, I will go too," and we would go for a walk together, no matter if I did fee, tired. If he should make a similar proposal the following evening I should have some entertainment to suggest.

If anything should detain you at home if he went out he would not stay long, if you had been his constant companion—but a great deal depends upon the man.

A. B. should say some evening after dinner.

Entertain and Be Entertained.

Study John's peculiarities and comply with them. When he comes home let him see that you are delighted to see him. Do not hover about him too much; he would sook here.
but have his dinner ready.
Put his chair, couch hacket, slippers, cigars and papers in the most charming siot in the house and let him enjoy them. Devote your evenings to him. Keep your home and selfclean and cheerful and always be willing to entertain or be entertained. Mrs. C. F. B., tertain or be entertained. Newark, N. J. about him too much; he would soon tire of that,

Put the Children to Bed Enriv.

The good wife considers John's comfort her most important duty. Carefully arranging her household affairs through the day she will be ready to give all attention to him in the evening.
Sies will never object to him bringing a friend to spend the evening with him.
If you have children and no hired help, do not annoy John with complaints, or he may decide to go out, until you have put the children to bed, and might forget to come back until you also have retired. Attend the children cheerfully, thanking God for them.

Be as particular about your personal appearance as you were during your engagement, pay attention to your complexion, arrange your hair becomingly always be cheerful and ready to participate in anything that he enjoys, and John will be with you every night. E. M. B. a Surprise to Her.

The only receipe I know of to keep my husband away from his club is to line his chair each evening with cobbler's wax. He is so tired when he gets through extricating himself, that he is glad to go to bed. Then I know he safe.

Sticketh Closer Than a Brother.

What Attracts a Jerseyman.

To the Editor .

To keep my husband at home evenings is very ensy. All I need is one giass of fresh lemonade, one pipe of good tobacco and the last edition of The Evening World. Nettle Brasbos.

Participate in His Amusements.

I will tell you how I siways, for twenty-five years, kept my husband bome. In the first place. I was always particular about having his meals on time, and by being as particular with myself as when he was my hear. I was always ready to so out with him and enter into any sports he liked, such as baseball, &c.

To-day i think as much of him and he of me as when we were first married. Itall lies in yourself whether he goes out or stays in.

Mascor.

Be Not Coursely Intimate.

In the Editor A woman can keep her husband at home easily by not, during the honeymoon or thereafter, breaking down all the barriers of reserve between him and her. She should act as nearly up to Emerson's advice as possible and preserve er strangeners.
Lovers are madly devoted during courtship.

Lovers are madly devoted during courtship, because a sense of propriety makes them preserve their strangeness, the one to the other. Married people too often become too intimate, and cash lets the other know overything, whether lovers or unlovely. This is a mistake, and especially so for a woman.

A wife should always by her reserve make her hisbend feel that in her nature there are possibilities vet undi-covered and unexplained. She should be ueat, cleanly and orderly, but adinated the rules of her household to that of complete couradeship with her husband—a comradeship of love, taste and symmathy, regulated by the fundamental law of preserving her strangeness and keeping her husband at a respectful distance so far as her personality is concerned. Be not too intimate.

Send Him Of Happy in the Morning.

Let the wife do everything in her power to en hance home in her husband's eyes, keeping it bright and tidy as possible, cultivating the pirit of cherifulness and contentment there-

Anticipate his return so as to be in readinese for it.

Let her eagerly approach him on his arrival, with a sweet kies of welcome, set before him the best meal her means can afford, gratifying his taste for variety as best she may, and be scrupulously neat in her own person.

If from any cause he should come home angry or ill-tempered, strive to subdue him with soft answer and patient forbearance rather than keen rebuke or harsh retort. Let him discover from her kind regard and tender affection that she is a good true woman.

If there be children, preserve order by dealing goally but firmly with them, and encourage them in their winning ways to reach their father, heart.

Under such circumstances, as a rule, he will must assuredly be found "at home" women.

Under such circumstances, as a rule he will ust assuredly be found "at home "evenings. R. M.

Love the Chief Ingredient.

Recipe,-At early morning, from a heart primming with love, draw forth in equal quan-Patience, for the trials of the day.

Hope, that shall tinge with sunshine all its jours.

Tender thoughtfulness, for the comfort and impuness of the household.

These purify and give a bracing effect to the studesthere of home and create a longing in the heart of the husband to return to its invigoratg influence.

Neglect not the diet. Both morning and cealing have ready the wholesome food well repayed, daintily served, not forgetting now not then some favorite dish, for the hand of we gives here, as to all other things, a winning

At evening give the greeting, cordial and un-From the same source as in the morning disense gentle sympathy, to remice in the success r to soothe for the failures of the day's efforts. With womanly tact, tell briefly your own thy's pleasures or its worries.

There is a place, a big place, in the world for the single woman, and as water seeks the level of its source, so she will find and fill the place. Leave not out the love. J. N. G.

Learn When to Let Him Alone.

Lithe Editor Don't find fault. Dwell on his good points, not on the bad. Don't say: "How much you eave me alone!" but, "How nice it is when you tay with me." Not "You don't care for what have to bear," but "How much easier it is to

I have to bear. But " frow much easier it is to bear things when I tell you!"

I'll little children to bed early. Have music, card playing, reading aloud if he like it. Don't bried if his baby is sometimes waked up. Make the room cheerful, and if you have only one away save a bright ribbon for it, and your nivest shoes and stockings. Dress better on anny nights than clear ones. Make him go out sometimes that he may find home pleasanter when he returns.

hen he returns. For the rost, duar sisters, learn when to let A Seccessful and Happy Woman.

to the Palitie Give him the baby to care for and keep his mother-in-law away from his home. C. E. S. Fit Down on His Lap.

Frace Out the Stother-in-Law.

After supper sit on his lap until time for re-

BACHELOR. tiring. Trent Him Better Than the Dog.

The wile should not give her attentions to dear little Pido, but should take more interest in the weifare of her bubby. When a busband comes home at night he should find a good dimser on the table and his wife ready to wel-come unit, instead of in another room teaching come agin, instead of the another room teaching Fido some new tricks.

In any case, do not tell him that your mother is good to spend the night with you or you will pretty soon hear him say that he has business with a man around the corner. W. T. B.

To Keep Them Home at Night.

(From the Sporting Times.)
THE EVENING WORLD has offered a prize for the best receipt to keep a husband at home of evenings. In order that the baseball boys may not be left in the deal we have gone to some expense to collect a few receipts from them, and hereby file as many as possible in the prize context: Tim Keefe-Lock the door. Roger Connor-Haustring him. John Ward-I have nothing to say. Darby O'Brien-Tie him to the table leg. Buck Ewing-Chloroform him after supper. Bobby Carathers-Get him a baby like mine. Mickey Welch-What if he hasn't any home? Jack Lynch-Put a carpet on the parlor floor. M. J. Kelly-What would be go out for, any-

Jim O'Rourke-Wouldn't a writ of injunction do it Con Murphy-Don't get him two at once like

Dave Foutz-Get up a little game with a dollar George Gore-Send out and get some in a bucket. Billy Holbert-Invite me to spend the evening

Bill Brown-I'd like to see the size of her who would keep me in if I wanted to go out, MARYEL TO MRS. KENDAL. FOR THE MORROW.

The Versatility of American Woman Final Preparations Made for the Decisive Battle of the Ballots.

Nell Nelson Interviews the Great Croker and Power Each Claim a English Actress. 25,000 Plurality.

Girls Impressed Her Very Strongly.

Mrs. Kendal sat at a little tôte-à-tête table in her rose-perfumed parior contemplating a rack of dry toast and a steaming service of English breakfast tea. A rosebud blushed in beauty at her throat and the thread-like ring of gold on her wedding-finger was her only jewel. It was a bare, prim, lofty hotel parlor, with never a picture or a cushion or "the mathetic trace of individuality" about it, but there was a fire on the hearth and a woman in front of it, with far-away, wistful blue ever, dreaming among the glowing coals, and together they made the room a sweet, restful, soothing place-

"And you come from a newspaper. It surprises me-the versatility of the American woman. I have seen many wonderful things since I came to New York, but nothing that interests me so much as the woman question, which the American girl is solving for the world.

"I don't think the American people realize the worth, the ability, the power or the possibilities of their sisters and daughters. It is to me, a conservative Englishwoman, a marvel. "Yes, I went to visit the Normal College Thursday. I went to gratify a little friend, the daughter of President Hunter, and that is how I became so interested in the question. There were 1,800 young women in the audience a 1 sembled for me-for me, think of it! I never had seen so much of my sex at one time, and I cannot tell how strongly I was impressed. Such fore I realized my rosition Mr. Hunter had presented me to the College, and in the most gratious way prepared the expectant pupils for an address. "There was nothing for me to do but rise and-I had never made a speech in my lifetalk to the girls. And that's west Is did. I in. Try to phase him with loving looks, kind can't tell you what I said. I only know how I felt and I also know that I made my li-teners a throng of youth, beauty, vigor and enthu-siasm: I didn't know what to say or how to conduct myself-rather suppress myself-and be-feel the honesty and sincerity of my admiration for them. "Oh, I noticed everything-the precision, the order, the almost military slacrity of the scholars. The action of the school was like the movement in a clock. In the march there was the light step, the easy grace, the proud carriage and that air of certainty, security and conscious satisfact; on that I have never seen outside of the military. And then the charm of personality! Youth in itself is beauty, but there was more than beauty. There was intelligence, intellect and a tangibility of culture and refinement that I never expected to find outside of an exclusive

"At a word, 1,800 seats flapped and 1,800 girls dropped into them. It was instantaneous. One, two! And it was over. I was dumfounded and with just that instantaneity of action every part of the programme was exemted.

"Mr. Hunter asked the girls if they wished me to address them and the one round, full volume of tone put into the larconic 'yes' was simply indescribable. It was like a wave of sound and it filled my very soul with its intensity. It was a request, an appeal, an invitation and a hand-clasp all in three letters. "Oh, yes, I did ask Mr, Hunter where the ,800 husbands were to come from. I meant it, for the 1,800 men worthy of those young women should be more than average men. "No, I do not hold to the opinion that woman's only sphere is in marriage. The oak and the ivy theory has disappeared in the modern science of landscape gardening. I believe firmly in the boly and wholesome bondage of matrimony, but not in matrimony as a traffic. of its source, so she will find and fill the place

Mrs. Kendal would not discuss the causes of marital infelicity, but thought there was more stability, more contentment and a more restful degree of happiness in the home life of Englishwomen than she had been informed prevailed in this country. "The American women are very bright. Their resources are wonderful, but their families are very small. We have more children; our firesides are correspondingly brighter.

"You say bables are not fashionable. Then may society forgive me for the violence I have done to style. I have a little brood-eight in all-and their absence from me is my only cross. I am always unhappy away from them. Naturally I suffer because I am very emotional, and all that soothes and rests me is the love of children. Many women there may be who do not need this kind of affection. I am not of that class. I can't live without it. It is to me health. and refinement of body, soul and sense. It rari-fles, edifies and purifies me. ' I do not believe that a woman with real maternal instinct can go astray. She may never have loved her husband, or she may have out. lived his affection, but that something divine in her heart which we call mother-love will son port, restrain and defend her from evil. The child brings love. It is as much a part of th tiny creature as its toes or its eyelashes, and if it touches a responsive chord in her breast it a once becomes the idol of her heart and the ideal of her life. "I am intolerant of the woman who lavishe her love on a lap-dog. We women have dogs, kennels and packs of them. We have them with our babies but not for them.

"I have been amused reading the column in THE EVERING WORLD devoted to the best methods of keeping husbands at home." "What would you suggest" " Feed the beaute."

While we were talking a messenger came in with a packet from a Normal Collegian contain ing a pretty little gold pin and a carefully penned quotation, with much love, from Shakespeare, and before she had finished admiring it. a huge bouquet of pink roses from another girl-lover was received. 'Now isn't it sweet of them? The dear, dear children; and not a clue to their names or identity. I have had just this sort of attention ever since I came to New York.

Jewels? I have handfuls, but no diamond necklace from Her Majesty. The Queen's brooch is the royal crown in diamonds, a gift never bestowed on any rank lower than an ambassadress. Then I have rings and pins and pen dants from various members of the royal family, but the sewel I most value is a diamond horse shoe given me by Prince Leopold, the late Duke of Albany. I met him at a drawing-room, and passing through a hallway my dress caught on a cactus plant and before I could get it disen-tangled the gausy stuff was badly torn. The young Prince came to my aid, snatched the jewel that secured a decoration to his shoulder and pinned up the torn breadth in my train.

"The American women are very pretty and so artistic, and their noses! My. my. my such little noses! Mine would make three."

NELL NELSON.

Normal College's Eighteen Hundred The Hottest Fight to Be Made for Senatorial Candidates.

> This is the last day of the political campaign, and to-morrow the result of the hot and bitter canvass which ends with to-day will be manifested at the polls. All the hard work has been done and most of are as present engaged with pencil and paper figuring out the result. and places the Tamafany majority at from 25,000 to 30,000, allowing a vote of from 50,000 to 55,000 for the furion ticket.

the minor details attended to, and the leaders

Chamberlain Croker is sanguine of success and places the Tamnfany majority at from the position he held as and de-camp on Gov. Morgan's staff. There was also a company of rifles named for him.

He is a great per of the Chautauqua Lake Astembly, and was paraded there last Summer as an exemplar of the Christian journalist, He is "agin" that engine of all evil, the Sunday newspaper. County Democracy furnishing the balance. Police Justice Power smiled when this esti-nate of Chamberlain Croker was communicated o him. "We have figures which make us a winner, and the count to-morrow night will prove the correctness of my statement. Tammary tever has, in an off year, cast the votes which she must have to-morrow to defeat our ticket, and she can't do it

TOORNIS'S RESELLION.

o-morrow.

Tammany's ross views are occasioned in great reasure by the action of the Ninth District County Democrate, under the leadership of Police Commissioner Voorhis, in refusing to apport the Republicans on the fusion ticket. The Ninth District Counties are all supplied with ballots minus the names of the Republican candidates.

ballots inhibits the blow at the deal ticket, and has distates.

This is a hard blow at the deal ticket, and has been met in the only way possible oy the County Democracy Executive Committee, which has arranged to put a full corps of workers into the district to peddle the straight fusion ticket. Agreeable to the warning of Chamberlain Croker that it would be well to post the Tammany Inspector of Electron to be alert in preventing any frant at the polls through the possible collision of the two liepublican inspectors and the County Democracy's representative, the getter yesterday and lectured them.

HOT FIGHT FOR SENATORS. HOT FIGHT FOR SENATORS.

It is for Senators that the hardest fight is being waged, and the outcome of to-morrow's battle in the Fi th District, located in this city, will be locked for with great interest by Mr. Thomas C. Platt.

Col. Murphy, the County Democracy candidate who is indorsed by the Republicans against Col. William L. Brown, Tammany, had over 8,000 majority in the district two years ago as the candidate of the United Democracy. Col. Brown, it is conceded, will have a hard fight to win against Col. Murphy, but Mr. Croker says that he will.

AREARN IS SANGUINE.

AHEARN IS SANGUINE. In the Sixth District where, two years ago, County Clerk Edward F. Reilly was elected almost without opposition, there is another fierce and bitter battle raging between Thomas F. Grady, Tammany, and John F. Alcaro, County Democrat, with Republican indorsement.

ment.
The Counties and Republicans last year polled in this district over two thousand more votes for Mayor than Mayor Grant, received, so it will be seen that Ahearn starts with an advantage.
Grady's friends claim that in case Ahearn is elected they will protest against his taking his seat, claiming that he is, as 'Circk of Essex Market Police Court, incligible under the Constitution. ROESCH FOR THE SEVENTIL.

Two years ago the argrecate of the opposition vote to George F. Langbein, the United Democracy candidate in the Seventh District, was 2,000 more than that he received. This, however, was made up in great part of the labor vote which is now solid for George F. Roeich, the Tammany candidate, whose election over Frederick W. Diehi is confidently predicted.

On the election for Mayor last yearthere was the least margin of a majority for Grant for Mayor in the Ninth Senate District over Hewitt and Erhardt.

It is thought highly improbable that W. J. Boyhan, the fusion candidate, will succeed against Senator Stadler here.

CANTOR'S HARD FIGHT.

CANTOR'S HARD FIGHT.

IVES HAS NO WALK-OVER, Two years ago Engene S. Ives had a slight majority as the United Democratic candidate in the Eleventh District, James R. O'Beirne, the Republican candidate, polling within 2,000 yotes of the number cast for the young Tamwith another Premocrat in the field and an acknowledged deal to elect the Hepublican candidate. Alderman Carlin, Secator Ives has no walk-over, athough his friends are confident of his ancess because of the character of his Republican opponent.

manyite.
With another Democrat in the field and an

WORLDLINGS. Gen. Sheridan's little son Phil is now nine years old. He is a stout, sturdy little fellow, absolutely devoid of fear. He is destined for a career at West

T. V. Powderly, the chief of the Knights of Labor secsses a most remarkable memory for names and faces. Although he meets thousands of people over year be never forgets them. Secretary Rusk is the only member of the Cabinet who does not smoke. STOLEN RHYMES.

Point.

> The Lineman's Compared death,
> Polling clouds of shattered death,
> I ells from formen rushing,
> Thries of finshing bayonet.
> Thuds of sun-butts crushing,
> When are needed on right finsh;
> I ham now, toys, to reach 'm; The Lineman's Comparison, > Jump nou, Loys, to reach Hurry up the caleson there; We'll a lesson teach 'm!" I was there in sixty-odd, > came out very tolerly.

> Lost's inser-don't count much,
> Chiy hilbs it iarely.
> Got a touch of rhounatis,
> Playnes me when it's chilly;
> Caushi it cown in itoly when
> The Johnnies had us silly.

But! Now as role I clamber up, Wares sizzling—burning, I loov back to battle ones With a kind of yearning.

ilalloween. As Kate and I walked down the lane, That evening in November, I tried to tell her, but in vein, The words I now remember. The stariit night, the moon's weird light, Seemed made for cashful lover; I thought "Oh, elves, he think my plight And with thy witcherles move her."

A little cloud came o'er the moon,
I couldn't then resist her:
Again 'twes light, but not too soon,
For I had clasped and kirsed her.

For I had clasped.

I cane L. Jones, in Judge. The Usual Effect. Great Editor-How do the railway officers

eem to feel about this accident up the road? Reporter—It has struck them dumb! Nervous People Who take Hood's Barsaparilla earnestly declare: "It gives us complete and permanent control of our nerves," By regulating the digestion it also overcomes dyspesia and disagreeable feelings in the stomach, cures head-sche and heartburn. By its action on the blood impurities are expelled and the whole body is benefited."

Hood's Barsaparilla is sold by all druggists. $1; six for $6. Prepared only by C. I. HOOD & CO., Lowell, Macs.

THE TRULY GOOD EDITOR,

"Col." Elliott F. Shepard, William K. Van. derbilt's con-in-Law.

"Col." Elliott F.Shepard, editor of the Mail and Express, is a fine-looking man with iron. gray bair, worn I rushed back from his brow, says a writer in the Chicago Herald. He sports glasses and his manner is pompous and condescending.

He is the husband of the eldest daughter of William K. Vauderbilt, runs the Fifty avenue stages, and probably is the greatest living authority on scriptural quotations. He began his career as office boy for the late Gov. Morgan. After that went into business with Morgan's son in a commission house. This was knocked higher than Gilderoy's kits by young Morgan's extravagances.

Then Shejard studied law. On one of his very earliest cases he received a retainer of $50. A few days after the beginning of the suit his clients received a letter from this young sprig of the law coolly asking for an additional retainer of $5,000. One of his clients being somewhat of a wag, wrote him that he had made a slight mistake as to the correct position of the period in his figures—that it should have been two ciphers towards the figure 5.

"Col." Shepard received his military title from the position he held as and decamp on

He is the husband of the eldest daughter of

The Closing Quotations.

Hisk. hiogo & Northwest 1 1 hiogo & Northwest 1 1 hiogo & Northwest 1 1 hiogo & Northwest 1 hiogo & Northwest 1 hiogo & Sasarn 11 hiogo & Sasarn Commercial Caple
Del. L.cc. & West
Delawar & Hudsun
Denver & Ric Grande
Denver & Ric Grande pref.
Den. Tex. & Ft. Worth
Dis. & Cattle Feed. Trust
lows C: niral pfd.
Lake Shore. Sew Jetsey Contral
Sew York Central
Sew York Central
N. Y. & New England
N. Y. Lake Front West
Y. San, & West
Y. San, & West
Y. San, & West
Oorlik & Westerpid
Northern Bacilio.
Northern Bacilio. Coa & Iron. z & Lake Erio.

STRENGTH OF BAKING POWDERS.

By Actual Chemical Tests. NAME. Cable Inches
Leavening Gas per 0s.
Dr. Price's, Most Perfect Made.....128.2 Ramsey's (Phosphate) when fresh. .. 121,54) cid...... 81.0 Ramsey's (Haywood's (when fresh)......124. Haywood's (not fresh)............ 85.4 Rider's......111.8 Clybourn's..... Fenator Jacob A. Cantor is making a hard fight for his return as the Tammany candidate in the Tenth District. Two years are he had a majority of about 200 over the combined opposition. But at that time the County Democracy supported him. If the County Democracy is true to its candidate, Alston G. Culver. Senator Cantor will be re-elected, but it is expected that Culver, who is the County Democracy leader in the Twenty-third Assembly District, will bunch the tickets of Peabody, the Republican candidate.

The Princip Cream Baking Powder does not coulse.

Dr. Price's Cream Baking Powder does not contain Ahm, Ammonia or Lime, or any Adulterant. —R. S. G. PATON, Ph. D., Chemist for the United States Gormment.

The Cream of Tariar used in Dr. Price's Cream Bisking Fowder is the strongest and free from all line and other impurities. The best Baking Powder made.— Prof. Partar Coll.Lier. Chief Chemist for the United States Department of Agriculture, Washington, D. C. I have several times examined baking powders in the market to determine their purity, raising power and interace on the health of those uning them. I have aniformly found Dr. Price's Cream Baking Powder the best as it respects. In raising power it stands at the head it is a pure, clean, clegant and beathful preparation. I have need: "Trice's" in my family for years. Pref. R. C. KEDZIE, late President Michigan State Board's Health.

* All Alum Baking Powders, no matter how high their strength, are to be avoided as dangerous. Phosphate and tartaric acid powders liberate their gas too freels, or under climatic changes suffer deterioration.

FURNITURE. Three Special Features for This Week.

SIDEBOARDS.—Designs from the 15th, 16th, 17th and 18th centuries in Reyal Oak. Copies of fames works or the early Renaissance. Reproductions of thomasseure and Rivarre types. Fronch Buffets, with rich bandstanders, we have an exceptionally fine assertiment of Std-Source, with locked inner closely locked crowers and arrive trappings.

CHAMBER SITS.—Ower St. different styles. All models in presented to the Chamber of the Cha

DE GRAAF & TAYLOR CO.,

47 and 49 West | 4th St.

Excellence, Economy! These qualities are combined in our stock of Fiss Furniture. The display is well worth the attention of all, and the prices, as usual, will be found from twelf to fitty per cent, below those who rotall what others

"Buy of the Maker."

FURNITURE MAKERS, 104, 106 and 108 West 14th St.